

CRITICAL READING AND WRITING INSTRUCTOR

Job Description

Love teaching? Want to work with some of the brightest students in the city? Consider working with Hamilton Education.

Hamilton Education is a fast-growing company offering a range of services: college planning, test prep, academic tutoring and enrichment programs. We have outstanding teachers, we teach real skills, and we're one of the best in the world at what we do.

We're seeking experienced, engaging and enthusiastic Humanities teachers to help teach our summer test prep courses. You will be working with top high school students, teaching courses in either Writing or Critical Reading.

Qualifications

- Bachelor's Degree in the humanities or social sciences (English, Composition, History, etc.)
- Some prior teaching or tutoring experience
- Must be available to teach the entirety of our summer term, June 17th - August 10th
- Must be available either from 8:30am -1:00pm OR 2:30pm - 6:30pm
- Experience with test prep (SAT/PSAT/ACT)
- Strong record of excellence in the classroom
- Engaging and enthusiastic teaching style

Benefits of the Job

- We provide paid training and all course materials.
- Flexible schedule, with several locations to choose from (Carmel Valley and 4S Ranch)
- Work alongside some of the best and most experienced teachers in the city, in an environment where teaching is strongly valued.
- For young teachers, this is a great opportunity to gain experiences and learn from the best.
- Teach the best and brightest students in San Diego. You will have fun in the classroom and get to design creative and challenging lessons.
- Teach real skills, not tricks and strategies. We're not asking you to walk students through worksheets. We study texts and teach high-levels concepts.
- We are a growing company. For outstanding performers, there are always opportunities for advancement.

How to Apply

Please click the APPLY button on the Careers page and include a current resume and (if applicable) a teaching portfolio, containing any materials that might help us judge your effectiveness as a teacher. This might include student evaluation, performance reviews, sample lessons, course syllabi, etc.
